The vote in Congress to amend the Constitution, so as to prohibit slavery, passed the Senate; but failed in the House, where tae vote stood 93 for and 64 against. As it required two-thirds to pass it, it failed. Of these 93, all were Republicans, except four, and of the 64, all were Democrats but one.

The New York Tribune says, "it would have passed with the requisite majority if the Congressmen had been elected in 1863, instead of 1862." Very possible. But it may fail worse than ever with the Congress elected in 1864 and 1865. What is the use of such votes? The proclamation abolished slavery on paper, and will be just about as effectual as a vote in Con-

It is remarkable that whilst the nigger on the brain reges in the North, whilst we read nothing else in such papers as call themselves loyal, the rebel papers have dropped the whole subject long since. One may read column after column of Southern papers and not see slavery alluded to. It was a good hobby to ride into secession; that accomplished, it is dropt out of the contest. Greeley & Co. are still, in the classic language of Mr. Lincoln, pegging away at their old hobby, when the contest has got beyond it. Greeley & Co. are still dreaming over slavery, and feeding their readers up with the notion that when they abolish slavery there will be an end of the war. The rebels do not say anything of the to pay this tax to secure their places, but insort. They are after independence, at whatever cosi; whilst Greeley & Co. are after the negre, at whatever cost. Even if slavery were tain situations. We don't know what measthe cause of this war originally, it is not its ure of punishment, if any, there is for accepting support now. Revolutious do not end where such bribes, but it ought to be a penitentiary they begin. Greeley & Co. have managed to offense. They refused to abolish it; so they have taken the remostly; but they were not over much rightestand foremost amongst the good and great, and they supported slavery as the Democrats have done lately.

These Democrats, then, are in excellent company. Let Greeley & Co. make mouths at them. They must, at the same time, make World, speaking of the appointment of Bishop ugly faces at Weshington and his compacts, and will be apt to grin themselves out of countenance, instead of marring the good British politics is now a matter of the greatest interest to us, and threatens to become more so. We have had our hard feelings about the conduct of the Palmerston administration. The Alabama, Georgia and other rebel vessels, fitted out in English ports, are party that has favored the Union.

Palmerston's downfall, on the other hand, serving the lash it is such a common liar as he have always favored warmly the rebel cause; and if in power they are no more moderate than their declarations have been, we have no cause to expect good from them. Armed vessels may again be permitted to be fitted out in British ports, and a more captious regard may be paid to our blockade. This, however, is really the least important act these changes in the British Cabinet may produce. What is to be apprehended is an intervention on the grounds of humanity to prevent the further effusion of blood. This becomes more alarming, as la'e European news brings the rumor

It is further to be noticed that, even if an armistice was made while the present administration was in power, there would not be the elightest hope of a reconciliation. No would be that we would become involved in a have to yield very ungracefully, if not ignominiously, to terms even harder than we could obtain from the rebels themselves. We cannot speak certainly, but it is possible that the the job will bring the entire bill up to somechange in the English Cabinet will be an event only less momentous to us than the ensuing Presidential election.

New York city is perhaps the largest, noisi est, meanest, wickedest city that ever was misgoverned by bribed officials and pothouse politicians. That it prospers in spite of all the gross and palpable iniquities that disgrace its history is the highest evidence of the vigor and healthiness of its people. If its trade and wealth was not founded upon a sure, firm basis, its vices would inevi-

A few years ago the condition of the police became such that a decided cure was required, and the control of it was taken from it by the State Legislature. Police commissioners are appointed now by the State, who have control of it judicially, while, if we correctly understand it, the Mayor has the executive control. The morals of a city are fallen low when its internal police are taken from its hands. Very lately, however, a still more aggravated instance of depravity has come to light, and one that deserves the very strongest condemnation. By disclosure in the Fourth ward it was found that trustees required of applicants what they were pleased to call a bonus: that is seventy-five or one hundred dollars to secure their appointment in the schools. In some cases this bribe took the shape of a tax of twenty dollars a month upon the teacher. "I paid the tex," said one man, "both as a matter of prudence, and because I believed the trustees demanded it." " About two months ago Mr. John White," said another, "came to my house and suggested to me that if my daughter desired to be re-appointed, it would be necessary to pay from seventy-five to one hundred dollars to secure it:" and these are only specimens of columns of just such evi-

Mr. Seward's diplomacy had already made us the derision of the temporal powers of Europe, and he might have spared us the disgrace of a rebuif from Rome. > The New York Tribune has an article on a late speech made by Cox, of Ohio, upon the inevitable negro question. The editor admits the ignorance and indolence of the negro, but agrees that other people, who are neither ignorant nor indolent, do not do as well as the African. The article seems to be intended to set forth the blessings to fall upon the country from ignorance, that being, perhaps, the strong plea of his party.

(Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.) EVANSVILLE, IND., June 15, 1864. Editors: I have reached this gay little place, of which, considering the amount of business transacted, little seems to be known. The geography book says Evansville is situated on the right or north bank of the Ohio river-gives a short account of the townmentions Vanderburg county, of which it is the county seat.

It fails, however, to speak of the productsnot of the agricultural, but of the human products-pretty women and gay and festive gents, for instance. Our friend Maynard—whilem of the Democrat—sits in his sanctum at the Times office—maybe a little younger, certainly no less genia!, than when he used to occupy the corner desk at the Democrat office. Long may he wave. This place much needs a good Democratic paper, and Maynard is the man to make it.

Evansyille boosts of two papers, the Times and Journal To the Louvel man I am in the government, whenever it fails to secure the corner of the subjugation of States and the establishment of a centralized despotism, already fill us with alarm for the cause of civil liberty in America. And whereas, it is due to those who differ with us in our notions of right, as well as the mode and measure of redress, to know where we stand, we propose to declare to them frankly our convictions and purposes in the premises; therefore,

There has been much excitement across the river within the past three or four days I suppose ere this you will have seen how the peeple of Henderson and adjoining counties in Kentucky are being treated. Negroes are being forcibly taken from their beds in the dead of night, tied, hurried to the river, and, before well aware of what has happened, are hurried to Pennsylvania to join the "Corps d'Afrique," as in the case of Dr. Beatty's. The other night Marshal Catlin, of Henderson, raised a posse, followed some of these new-style recruiting officers, and recaptured the negroes, together with the men. The soldiers was delivered to Lleut. Perkins, commandstyle recruiting officers, and recaptured the negroes, together with the men. The soldiers were delivered to Lieut. Perkins, commanding the guuboat, who, I understand, returned them to the post commander at Evansville, where the matter is to be investigated. I hear it whispered that Lieut. P. will get himself in trouble, as he furnished the boats for the posse to make the capture. I can scarcely believe this, however, as he did nothing that his oath did not justify him in and what any good citizen should have done. I can not understand how a citizen becomes less obligated statement of losses by the recent rebel raid apon that town: The ruins of the business part of the city prove the recklessness of the rebels. The cotal losses, which exceed $250,000, fall heavily on Union men. The secessionists lose fully on Union men. The secessionists lose fully two-thirds of the amount. Of their leaders, J. W. McIntosh loses $50,000, C. A. Webster from $25,000 to $30,000, and Lawson Oxley, F. N. Gray, and M. Murphy, heavy amounts. Of the Unionists, S. S. Frazell lost $15,000; John L Mages probably $10,000, all he had; and J. M. Dickey $3,000. Mr. Delling's loss by robbary was $5,000.

by robbery was $5,000. SNOW STORM AT THE WHITH MOUNTAINS .-A snow storm on Mount Washington Sunday overtook a party engaged in examining the carriage road with a view to repairs. They found shelter in one of the houses on the mountain, as the storm was so severe that it was impossible to remain exposed to its fury. The snow was six inches deep on the summit Monday morning. The carriage road up Mount Washington, says the Boston Transcript, will require very extensive repairs, as, in its original construction, sufficient allowance was not made for the vast volumes of water which pour over the mountain sides above the range of vegetation, and numerous large culverts will be necessary to prevent the annual washing of the road bed. A RUMOR FROM FRANCE.-The Paris correspondent of the Lordon Times is responsible for the following: for the following:

I hear that two delegates—one civil, the other military—have been sent by the French Government to America for the purpose of ascertaining by personal inspection the real state and prospects of the belligerents, and to report thereon to the Emperor. It is also stated that overtures have been again made on the part of France to the Eeglish Government with a view to devise some means of putting a stop to the frightful and useless carnage be-tween the Federals and the Confederates. 1 donot say that these overtures have been made through the usual official channels, but I have some reason to believe that the main fact is correct. What reception they have met with

I cannot say.

The last chancinesse in France has just fied at the age of 95. She was the Countess de Vicvignes, and in 1785 was received in the Chapter of Salles, where, according to the rules, she must have proven eight quarters of nobility. It is probably now-a-days known to few that under the old French regime a chanoinesse was a lady in religious orders, but of such a peculiarly mild kind that she was enabled to go out visiting and indulge in all says: worldly pleasures. The wonderful valor of the armies in Virginia la at last wringing from the European press a lust tribute of praise. In Presse of last even-ng commences a long article on the late bat-les, from the Rapidan to Spottsylvania Court-longe, with the following prefatory para-graph: graph:

"After three years of continuous fighting, which had at last fatigued public attention, the two parties which are struggling in America with so much energy and obstinacy, for Union or separation, have again found the means of reviving the interest of the Old World by the proportion of their battles, which surpass, in fact, everything of which history furnishes any account. Xerxes, Darius, Tamerlane, Attila, led larger armies fight for weeks together, without giving signs of hissitude and discouragement. There were examples of three days of battle; there were no, hattles which lasted more than a week without the combatlasted more than a week without the combatants having changed their positions; one of them remained master of the grotind by the flight or the destruction of his adversary.
This spectacle is given us by America, as if to prove to the world that in all things she proceeds in a gigantic manner. Since the 5th of May, the day on which the first battle on the Rapidan was fought, until the 14th of May, not a single day has passed without the combatants being engaged, and only one day in which there was not a veritable battle. Commandants-in-Chief, Generals, Colonels, officers and soldiers have accomplished prodigies of ability, courage, and perseverance; the earth asted more than a week without the combat ability, courage, and perseverance; the earth has been made to drink blood like water.

"The wounded are trampled over to continue the struggle; they fight over the layers of the dead. They sway backward and forward, they attack and defend foot by foot each advantageous piece of ground, they grapple each other in a furious wellow without interpies each other in a furious melee without each other in a furious melee without intermission; those who survive lie down in the evening with their feet in the blood of the contest to recommence the next day. And whatever may be the result of this long conflict between men of such iron wills, it will remain as a memorable proof of the indomitable courage of the Anglo-Saxon race; for there can no longer be any discussion about the absurd reproach made against Northern armies of being composed of mercenaries; mercenaries do not composed of mercanaries; mercenaries do not resist a whole week of battle " The other liberal papers speak of the cour-age and energy displayed in this great strugcle in the same strain of praise; the secession ournals, which lie continually about the ad-vantages gained, and which predict an utter vantages gained, and which predict an utter failure of the campaign against Richmond, do not pretend to deny to General Grant the most brilliant qualities as a General and to his army an unheard-of courage and perseverance. But, like the London secession journals and your copperhead cot mporaries, they occupy themselves much more with the movements, the provess and the invinibility of Lee and themselves much more with the movements, the prowess and the invincibility of Lee end his army than with those of Grant and his army. These papers, which defend the rebellion either for money or from hatred to the Republic, and which, therefore, sustain the cause as a parti pris, already take the precaution to declare that the taking of Richmond will not end the rebellion and that the rebellion can never be ended. A paper to-day quotes a speech attributed to some member of Congress at Washington, uttered lately in the lobby, to the effect that, notwithstanding lobby, to the effect that, notwithstandin Grant's successes thus far, the rebellion coul

BUTLER'S EAR FOR MUSIC .- The New York World says:

A letter from Bermuda Hundred says they have excellent music there; but it is all wasted on Gen. Butler, who distinguishes only two tunes, one of which is "Yankee Doodle," and the other isn't. Some will see in the fact con-firmation of Shakspeare's philosophy: "The man that hath no music in himself, And is not moved by concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils."

SENATE.

A message from the President was received communicating letters and papers relative to Mexican affairs. Also one covering a statement of Thomas avage, vice Consul General at Hayana, in reard to the Arguelles case. Mr. Powell reported a resolution for print-ing 1,550 copies of a directory of Congress, prepared by Charles Samson for the use of the senate, and it was passed.

To-morrow was set spart for the consideration of the District of Columbia bill.

The Pacific telegraph bill came up.

Mr. Doolittle offered an amendment that the

A bill to prohibit the discharge of persons from liabilities from military duty by reason of the payment of money was called up.

The question being on the amendment that every person who shall be draited and serve bonorably for the period of a year, shall receive a bounty of $100 and an honorable discharge, and a similar bounty proportionate to his term of service from a less period.

The amendment was relected. The amendment was rejected. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE. A bill was introduced and referred to the Judiciary Committee to prohibit the inter State slave trade. Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, moved the appoint-ment of two additional commissioners, one on internal revenue and one on banks. Mr. Pierce moved that the Judiciary Comslittee report the bill to repeal the act com-elling the street cars to run on Sunday. The Speaker said the Senate had not yet the present.

Mr. Ross, of Illinois, offered a resolution that all persons not in the military or naval service, who have been arrested and imprisoned without process of law, and released without trial, are entitled to same pay and present for being deprivate of the liberty as without trial, are entitled to same pay and milesge, for being deprived of their liberty, as members of Congress, and the Committee of Claims are hereby instructed to report a bill at an early day for that purpose.

A debate arising, the resolution went over.
Mr. Ingersoll, of Illinois, reported a resolution, that in the opinion of the House all permits issued to a person or persons, allowing them to trade within the lines of any State, now or heretofore in rebellion, should at once be revoked and no more issued.

The Fifth corps didn't lose heavily in their advance in the morning, but their loss was considerable in the evening in their attack on the left. Our losses during the past two days will reach 8,000 in killed and wounded. The loss of the enemy at the same point was greater than ours; but being generally behind the intrenchments, were not so much exposed, and, of course, suffered less on the whole. All the prisoners taken so far are about 1,200, of whom about 200 came in yesterday, and repte-

JESSEE'S BAND.-This band of guerrilla which captured Bardstown, and which afterwards did some damage to the Lebanon and Bardstown branches, were last heard of at Stephensburg, Kentucky, where they divided their forces, and moved off in different directions, a portion of the party going to Mead county. They did no further damage to the railroad, nor did they commit any depredations in the places they passed through further than seizing a number or horses. Their main object seems to be to obtain horses and recruits, and it is said they have obtained a large number of the latter. The great trouble seems to be in getting arms for the men, and it is presumed that the different bands will go into Tennessee, where, after being well armed and equipped, they will concentrate their forces with the intention of making a raid on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. The Cumberland river will soon be so low that nothing can be taken to Nashville by boats. and the cutting of the railroad at this time would be a serious embarrassment to our army in the front. PITCH INTO HIM .- Lieutenant Le Roy Fitch, commanding the Tenth District of the Mississippl squadron, in an address to the Mayor and citizens of Henderson, says it is not the duty of the gunboats to run off negroes, but that their "object is to protect commerces break up as much as possible this guerrilla warfare, and injure only the enemies of the United States." The News also says that Lieut. Fitch announced that he had instructions to blow any vessels out of the water engaged without authority in nigger-stealing ex-company F, Eighteen invalid corps. CONFEDERATE PISONERS -Four Confederate prisoners, captured by the Twelfth Ohio cavalry, in Owen county, were brought to Covington Sunday morning. Their names are Early's (late Longstreet's) corps crossed the Peter Conner, of Owen County; A. F. Hughes, James river near Drury's Bluff in strong force of Kenton; Dr. O. L. Gaines, of Boone, and and was seen coming down the Petersburg turnpike as Gen. Butler's forces entered their F. V. Gentry, of Frankfort. We understand that Hughes took the amnesty oath last fall.

The boat proceeded on, although the rebels made everal attempts to compel her to land. On last Friday morning a squad of daring guerrillas made a desperate attempt to capture the Storm while she was tied up near Clarksville on account of the fog. The advance of the guerrillas was made known to the officers of the boat, and they parted the line and dropped out into the river just as the rebels made their appearance. The officers of the McCombs also inform us that a number of boats have been pressed into the Government service for the surpose of carrying lumber from Smithland to Nashville. The gunboats patrol the Cumberland river, but the guerrillas pay no attention to them.

A REBEL LIEUTENANT CAUGHT .- Oa Saturday evening a squad of company H, One Hundred and Sixty-eighth O. N. G., on duty at Boyd's Station, below Falmouth, made a descent on a residence near Waldron's Mill, seven miles west of Boyd's, and found a rebel Lieutenant in citizens' dress enjoying himself with his rebel friends. He is well known to Mokica Wichiga the citizens of the vicinity as a notorious gambler; was formerly a member of Forrest's command-probably at Fort Pillow-and of late attached to Morgan's "Provisional" marauders. He styles himself Lieut. Parks, Co-H, First Battallon First Kentucky. Mounted Riflemen. The neighborhood where he was taken is full of rebels, and within the past few days the long roll has been heard at Boyd's from that direction. YESTERDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

From the Seat of War in Virginia. Our Forces Still Marching Forward

They are Within Half & Mile o Petersburg.

Both Armies new Confronting Each Other.

Important Captures of Prisoners, Guns and Positions.

Lee's Troops Arriving at Petersburg

City Point Road in our Possession.

Considerable Skirmishing Going On New York, June 20.

The Tribune's special from headquarters Army of the Potomac, near Petersburg, of Friday; June 17, A. M., says: We are again in front of the entire rebel army, which has been engaged by our advance, the Second and Eight front of the entire rebel army, which has been engaged by our advance, the Second and Eighteenth corps, and important captures of guns, prisoners, and positions have been accomplished. The Second, Ninth, and Eighteenth corps are in line of battle, and on the arrival of the balance of the troops dispositions will made for a final assault upon the enemy's works. Since Tuesday night, when the advance of the Eighteenth corps arrived in the vicinity of town, our lines have been pushed steadily forward. Several strong positions have been wrested by charges from the enemy, and we have taken eighteen guns and several hundred prisoners. Our advance is within half a mile of Petersburg, which is in full view of almost our entire line.

Prisoners state that portions of Lee's army commenced arriving at Petersburg on Monday night only four hours after the arrival of Hancock with the Second corps, and that Wise's brigade, commanded by Wise in person, held the town uctil that time. City Point road is now in our possession, and the Norfolk and Petersburg line commanded by our troops. The Eighteenth corps, which landed at Bermuda Hundred this day noon, led the advance, crossing the Appomattox on pontoon bridges crossing the Appomattox on pontoon bridge laid four miles above its mouth, and pene-trating southward up to within about four miles of the town before encountering any op-position.

Here skirmishing commenced. Our advance pushed steadily forward, and drove back the pickets of the enemy, who took position in their outer defenses. These defenses were immediately charged by Hinks' negro division with splendid gallantry, the enemy put to flight, and two guns and a considerable number of prisoners captured. The works were held until the arrival of Hancock at halfpast three o'clock Ps M. on Wednesday. On his arrival in the evening, a reconnoissance was made, for the purpose of ascertaining our exact position. Considerable skirmishing ensued. Only two divisions, Birney's and Gibbons', reached the field on Wednesday night, Gen. Burton, who pursued another road, bringing up the rear and coming up at six o'clock yesterday (Thursday) morning, with o'clock yesterday (Thursday) morning, with his division. Birney and Gibbons deployed in line of battle, when their proximity to the line of battle, when their proximity to the rebels was discovered and our troops bivouncked on the field, Birney occupying the left line and Gibbons on the right. On Burton's arrival in the morning he was ordered into position on the left of Birney. Batween 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning the enemy began a heavy artillery fire on our line, enfilleding it with batterles posted on our left and rendering either an advance or occupation of a position to the rear immediately accessary, and an advance of the Second and Eighteenth corps was ordered by Hancock, who, in the absence of Meade, took command of both corps. The result was highly successful, several times the rebel works being carried at the point of the bayonet, a number of redoubts of point of the bayonet, a number of redoubts of great strength occupied, and sixteen guns ta-ken and turned upon the enemy by the Fighteenth corps. Eighteenth corps.

June 18 Contrary to expectation, no general engage ment occurred yesterday, although fighting on our left at times was very heavy.

Early in the morning the 4th and 2d corps forming, left our lines considerably advanced, when, for a short time, the fighting was exceedingly fierce.

The result of the battle, though not decisive, was favorable. Four guns were captured by the 21 corps in a charge, making a total of 22 WASHINGTON, June 19, P. M.

Dispatches from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac on the 18th say very severe fighting took place yesterday along the greater part of the line.

A most determined effort was made to break the enemy's line, but little ground, however, was gained, except on the left. [Special to the Times.]

We understand that quite a number of own-town merchants and bankers are quietly availing themselves of the provision of the conscription law which permits persons who are liable to exempt themselves by procuring substitutes in advance. The following is the section of the law which allows of this being done:

"Section 4. And be it further enacted, That any person enrolled under the provisions of the act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes, approved March 3, 1853, or who may be hereafter enrolled, may furnish, at any time previous to the draft, an acceptable substitute, who is not liable to draft, nor at the time in the military or naval service of the United States; and such person so furnishing a substitute shall be experson so furnishing a substitute shall be ex-empt from draft during the time for which such substitute shall not be liable to draft, not exceeding the time for which such substitute shall have been accepted."

shall have been accepted."

It should be understood that the procuring of a substitute of this kind exempts, absolutely, for the space of three years. There are plenty of aliens in this city who will gladly join the army for two or three hundred dolars in addition to the county bounty. If a heavy draft takes place the price will go up to a thousand dollars or more. Hence the more sagacious of the well-to-do people who are liable are quietly exempting themselves by this means. There ought to be enough of this class of citizens to fill up our quota, however class of citizens to fill up our quota, however large it may be, at once.—[N. Y. Paper.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin asks a few pertinent questions of the Navy Depart-

Is it not time that some of the swift vessels of war about which the Navy Department issued proposals more than two years ago, were aftoat? We know that there are some ten or twelve vessels designed to be swift now on the stocks in various navy yards, but these are not the ones which were advertised for when the Alabama left the Mersey. The public were led to believe that these advertisements meant something; but we were convinced at the time, by the answers given to builders, that they were all a sham. And we recur to them they were all a sham. And we recur to them now, to show the subterfuges made use of by the Navy Department to deceive the public. What has it done well during the present administration? Its iron-class have failed to reduce a single rebel stronghold. New Orleans was captured by wooden vessels. It has not succeeded in establishing a thorough blockade; it has not afforded protection to our commerce, nor has it produced a single swift vessel of war fit to cope with the British pirates. Where is the Vanderbilt? Is it not time that she was again at sea? The Niagara, also, from which so much was expected—what is she doing? Where are the rams with which to meet those now ready to issue from rebel ports—where are they? And echo answers—
